A Small Revolution in Cuff Technology

As endovascular intervention rates rise, the target placement options for peripheral bypass are reduced to smaller and more distal vessels. The Distaflo® Mini-Cuff Bypass Graft with advanced cuff technology is tailored specifically for small vessels. It's the latest in a long line of vascular innovations from Bard Peripheral Vascular, the only company to offer a pre-cuffed graft with proven performance in peripheral bypass.
References

